COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The coupon that was to be turned into the town office that was printed in the Bethel Citizen last week brought very little response. Two were returned in person. Three were returned by mail but there was no name to identify the sender. There seems to be a great deal of apathy concerning the elm trees of Bethel. A few home owners have had their trees pruned and the bad ones removed. Most people don't seem very interested in the subject.

The CMP Co. poles on Mason Street are still in the way so the reconstruction of the street has not yet begun. Many of the streets that were tarred in town have been swept this past week. A couple of culverts were replaced and one catch basin was installed.

The assessing work is very nearly completed and should be done by the last of this week or the first of next week. The rate has not been figured yet but all indications seem to be that it will be the same as last year.

The question comes up every so often regarding the value of a house that might be five or ten or fifteen years old. People want to know why the tax value is the same now as it was five or more years ago. Two factors must be considered when discussing this subject. One factor is that most houses are not depreciating in market value but they are appreciating or increasing in value. The other factor is that if one property is depreciated due to age or obsolescence then all properties would have to be given the same consideration and everyone would be in the same relative position that they are in now.

STATE POLICE SAY "STAY IN OWN LANE"

"In today's traffic an automobile or truck can be expected around every curve and over the crest of every hill," the State Police pointed out today.

The enforcement group cautioned motorists of the necessity of keeping strictly in their own lanes, of leaving them only to pass, and of doing that only after careful judgment that the way is clear.

"We can greatly increase our chances of avoiding an accident by staying in our own lane," they continued. "For this reason, we should look upon that centerline as a sort of 'No trespassing' sign. Of course, there are times when we have to pass other vehicles, but this should be done with due care, and never on hills or curves, or when the presence of other traffic makes it dangerous.

"The driver who drives at reasonable speeds and who observes carefully the above rule greatly increases his chances of arriving safely at his destination," concluded the police. "On the other hand, failure to observe either of these important rules frequently leads to serious highway crashes."

A training school on new curriculum for Methodist children will be held this Thursday evening from 7 to 9 p. m. at the church dining room. The meeting is open to anyone interested in the new materials for the Church School.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brown and sons, Georgetown, Mass., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown and family on their return from a week's vacation in Prince Edward Island, Canada, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. James Tate, also of Georgetown. Miss Nancy Brown returned to Massachusetts with them for a visit.

THE BETHEL ELMS

A dead elm tree on town property has to come down at Town expense eventually to avoid danger from falling branches. But if it is removed immediately it will not be an eyesore and will save the town money in the long run by not spreading the disease and killing more trees.

If you are interested in keeping Bethel a nice looking town, not just a worthless looking woodlot, send or bring the following form to the Town Manager. If enough people are interested, something may be done about saving the looks of our Town.

SAVE THE BETHEL ELMS COMMITTEE

To the Town Manager:

I am interested in the appearance of the Town and would like to see some real action about combating the Elm Tree blight.
